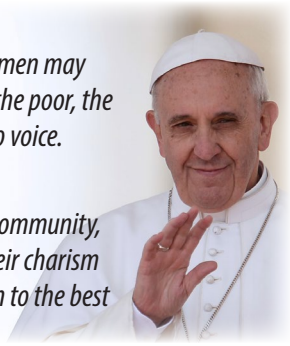
Holy Father's Prayer Intentions

The Mission of Religious

That consecrated religious men and women may bestir themselves, and be present among the poor, the marginalized, and those who have no voice.

Challenge for the Month:

Visit, this month, a religious missionary community, close to where you live, to understand their charism and mission and offer your service to them to the best of your ability.



Liturgy Reflection

Today Mark invites us to put ourselves in the shoes of the scribe who asks Jesus, "Which is the first of all the commandments?" As the commandments are instructions of how a faithful person should act, the scribe was basically asking Jesus what one principle above all should guide his actions. Unlike most religious authorities who came to Jesus with questions, he was not trying to trick him or test him or find something that could be used against him. One can tell from the way he responded to Jesus' answer that he sincerely wanted to know which of the 613 precepts of the Jewish law was paramount. Jesus responds by quoting the passage from Deuteronomy that we hear in the first reading, "You shall love the Lord your God," as well as Leviticus, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." It was not enough to state just the first. The scribe wanted just one, but he got two. A few days ago we celebrated the Solemnity of All Saints, recognizing those who put their faith into action, living lives that serve as models for us. Today we are the scribe, being told by Jesus the way to act, the way to live. How do you put your love of God and neighbor into action?

Real Love

In The Road Less Traveled, M. Scott Peck distinguishes between infatuation and love. Infatuation, he says, is when we allow all the walls that we have put up in order to protect ourselves to collapse and thus permit another to enter into the most sacred and vulnerable portions of our lives. We think that in such a way we are becoming one with another because there are no more walls to divide us, except that before long our walls begin to go back up one by one. On the other hand, notes Peck, real love is not about collapsing our walls but about expanding them in never-ending fashion, thereby choosing to allow more and more people into the deepest portions of our lives. Real love is the choices we make and not feelings we experience. Once we begin to choose to live in such a fashion, says Jesus, we are not far from the kindgom of God.

A Note from the Parish Administrator

For those who got up at 2:00 this morning to reset your clocks (remember – it's spring forward and fall back time), for a while it looked as if we might not be changing every six months. Remember, the Tallahassee folks were kicking around the idea of not changing and even talked about moving parts of the state so that all were in one time zone – although I think they forgot to ask the folks who live in those areas what they wanted to do - anyway I asked around to see what the deal is, and apparently the bills reached a certain point where Congress had to vote on it, and they had bigger fish to fry, so all is well for another year. Happy CST.

Checking our parish offertory so far this fiscal year – to date Our Lady is running about $17,500 below where it's budgeted to be while St. Ann is operating $48,500 below its targeted amount. That's not too bad since we normally kind of catch up around the holidays. For on-line giving, Our Lady is at 17% and St. Ann is 41%. Remember those kiosks in the back of the churches – you don't have to write a check or carry cash.

Parish hall update – you've seen the equipment and work start-up at the front door of the hall. This will require that area to be placed "off-limits" until work is pretty much completed on the canopy. The painting is mostly done with the exception of a walk-through to point out the "holidays", and work on the terrazzo side has started. We had to change our order on the carpeting because it wasn't readily available but should be on-track on that one. Our next large event is the Gulf Breeze Area Chamber of Commerce breakfast on the 8th, which is going to require some creative work by all parties. This has been on the schedule for almost a year, but the contractors are working with us on this one so we should be able to pull it off.

The Hurricane Michael collection over the past two weekends has totaled almost $17,000 and counting. Our Lady took up a second collection two weeks in a row, which helped boost the total handsomely. We'll send that on over to the diocese for distribution to the affected parishes. Thanks for your generosity.

If the parking lot at St. Ann looks a little dim to you, it's because it is. Gulf Power came in several months ago to do a study and then offer a plan for parking lot lighting maintenance. Somehow that got lost and didn't come up again until just before the hurricane – then the people responsible had to go to Panama City – so - long story – we have scheduled an electrical contractor to come in and replace all the lighting. Maybe we'll get back to the Gulf Power thing later.

Thanks to Brad and Joe for all the work around the nature trail (which also has the Stations of the Cross) and for all their brush-cutting and cleanup of the trail and surrounding woods. I'm sure they would appreciate help hauling it all to the transfer station. They have quite a pile going back there. BTW – for the winter months, the transfer station will only be open Tuesday and Saturday.

Tom Naile

Eucatastrophe (A happy ending, especially one in which, instead of an impending disaster, a sudden turn leads to a favorable resolution of the story). Sounds like when Hurricane Michael made that turn away from us

Truism: There are worse things than getting a call for a wrong number at 4 a.m. – for example, it could be the right number.

Ride sharing will be up to individuals to work out. For more information, contact Amy Kemp at amy@stanngulfbreeze.org. We will be collecting supplies to bring with us - please see the updated list posted by St. Dominic Catholic Parish. Bibles & rosaries have also been asked for. There will be a basket in the narthex for all donations.

Updated list of our pressing needs for aid distribution:

batteries (all sizes AAA thru D), household cleaning items, pet foods, snacks, disposable cleaning gloves, paper products (to include plates, flatware, paper towels, napkins), hygiene products for men & women, baby food, baby formula, kids pullups, kids underwear, deodorant, and canned goods

Thanksgiving Food Drive

Crank up that attitude of gratitude! It's time for the Annual Thanksgiving Food Drive. The Holiday Dinner Boxes, created from the food and essentials your family gives, will be distributed to needy familes throughout South Santa Rosa County neighborhoods. The big brown bags were passed out at St. Ann & Our Lady. Please bring your filled bags back to either church on the weekends of November 3-4 & 10-11. Volunteers will deliver the food on Friday, November 16. We will gather at St. Ann in the Chapel Conference Room at 4:00pm. Six to eight volunteers and their vehicles are needed to ferry our boxes and bags to Oriole Beach Elementary School. For more information and/or to volunteer, please call Stef McNeill at 916-1786 or email rmcneill7@yahoo.com.

In honor of Veteran's Day, our Religious Education classes will be hosting a Living Rosary on Sunday, November 11 at 9:45am on the church lawn. All families are invited to join us!

Natural Family Planning

How does understanding the female cycle help with understanding health? Is understanding the fertility window helpful to me? Is it helpful to my daughter? The female cycle has been called the "5th vital sign" and is used to assess health. Come hear a brief, simple explanation of charting to understand the female cycle using the Creighton Method of Fertility Appreciation on Friday, November 9th from 6-7pm in room 5 of St. Ann's Family Life Center.
